Nixon Says He Will Carry 7 Largest States

By JACK BELL

ON ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon predicted today he would win in a majority of seven of the nation's largest states — California, Texas, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York — in next week's presidential election.

"The tide has turned and my opponent is practically running out of gas," said Nixon as he took off from Philadelphia for campaign appearances at Lancaster and Erie, Pa.

In reply to a question as to how he felt the election was shaping up, Nixon said: "To win, my opponent has to take six of the seven big states and he can't do it. The tide has turned. I will carry a majority of the seven big states."

Nixon's prediction of victory in at least four of the seven carried him a step further than his position last Sunday, when he rated New York, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois about 50-50 and saw himself leading in Texas and California.

Nixon contended that the greatest weakness of his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, "is that people are afraid he will shoot from the hip and make mistakes as president. We can't afford to take such a chance."

The vice president also asserted he expected President Eisenhower to be a "great help" in the closing days of the campaign.

Nixon charged Kennedy with trying to make "a political football" out of the problem of chronic unemployment. The Republican presidential nominee blasted Kennedy's proposal for dealing with depressed areas.

"The sorry lack of concern for the American people to often revealed by my opponent and his followers can be no better documented than by the record on discredited areas legislation," Nixon said in a statement before leaving on today's campaign swing which also will carry him to Syracuse and Rochester, N.Y.

Nixon said, "five times they have ignored the President's recommendations and, instead, they passed two pork-barrel bills of their own, each in an election year, 1958 and 1960, and each so full of politics they were obviously nothing but vote bait."

Before his stop overnight in Philadelphia, Nixon said he was willing to take on the whole Kennedy family in a national television debate.

Castro Makes Flights From Cuba Hard

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government is making flight from Cuba difficult for the Cuban professional men and technicians needed to keep the economy running.

"The list of those who must get special permits to go abroad has been lengthened. It reportedly now includes all government employees, executives of newly nationalized businesses, engineers, physicians, petroleum specialists and bank officers."

Trained men have been leaving Cuba in large numbers as the economy has been subjected to more and more government control.

Technicians from the seized Shell, Esso Standard and Texaco oil refineries, now operated by the government petroleum monopoly, are among those who got away.

"It's beginning to pinch," one Cuban professional man said. "That's why Castro is imposing new restrictions on travel for many classes of people."

Six persons, apparently all Cubans, were taken off a Cubana Airlines plane Monday before it was allowed to leave for Miami.

Russia Says American Spy Jailed

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said today an "American spy" named Mikhail Platovsky has been arrested in the Soviet Union.

The Tass account, which also was carried by Moscow radio, said Platovsky — alias Andrei Kreps and Pyotr Sosnovsky — was smuggled into the Soviet Union with another alleged spy named V. M. Slovov.

No mention was made of Platovsky's nationality and, beyond saying he was trained in West Germany, Tass gave no further identifying data.

The announcement came five days after the arrest in New York of Igor Y. Melekh, 47, chief of the Soviet section of U. N. document translations on a charge of espionage. Arrested with Melekh by the FBI was Willie Hirsch, 52, a German medical illustrator.

"Platovsky was instructed by the American intelligence service to take up residence in Minsk and start collecting secret information," the Tass announcement said.

"When arrested he was found to possess two radio transmitters, ciphers, codes, duplicating equipment for printing anti-Soviet leaflets and other espionage gear."

Tass said Platovsky had been trained as a spy by U. S. intelligence officers in espionage schools at the West German cities of Bad Homburg, Kaufbeuren and Altmue after a nine-month period, his courses including pistol shooting and parachute jumping.

The Soviet Union announced the arrest of Slovov last Aug. 2, saying at that time he had been trained in spying by U. S. intelligence officers in West Germany.

Magazine Poll Shows Kennedy Is in the Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three magazines—Time, Newsweek and U.S. News and World Report—have concluded on the basis of surveys that Sen. John F. Kennedy is in the lead in the presidential race.

After a state-by-state survey of political experts, U.S. News and World Report said the Democratic nominee is leading in states with more than enough electoral votes to make him president.

Newsweek said 50 top Washington correspondents and political writers predicted a win for Kennedy, while 10 saw Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent, as the winner.

Time said its own correspondents estimated Kennedy was leading in states with 306 electoral votes and Nixon in states with 149. Needed to win: 269.

The average estimate of the 50 correspondents and political writers in the Newsweek survey as to what the electoral vote would be: Kennedy 326.4; Nixon 210.5.

In a separate finding, Newsweek said reports from political experts in each of the 50 states estimated the electoral vote would break down this way: Kennedy 278, Nixon 159, with 100 as toss-ups.

Time correspondents listed states with 12 electoral votes as unpredictable. They are California, Hawaii, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Nevada and North Carolina.

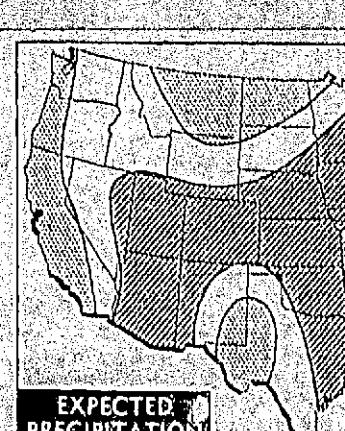

These correspondents listed these states in Kennedy's camp: Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

Listed for Nixon are Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia and U. S. News and World Report reported Kennedy leading in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri, Maryland, West Virginia, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, California, Washington and Alaska for a total of 282 electoral votes.

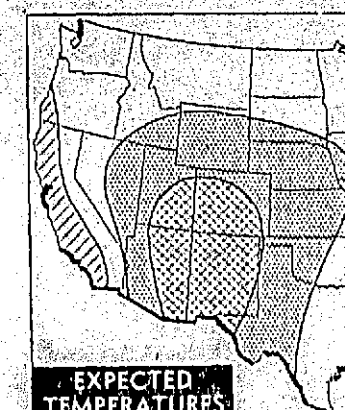

Nixon was rated ahead in Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia and Wyoming for a total of 205 electoral votes.

The magazine rated seven states with 50 votes as doubtful.

Release of Jones Called a Mistake

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that a mistake was made when murderer Curtis Lee Jones was freed from the Arkansas penitentiary.

But he said he didn't think the state parole system was at fault. Jones was serving a life sentence for a 1943 slaying in the Texarkana area. Last year Faubus reduced the sentence to one of 50 years. On Sept. 10 Jones was paroled.

He now is being hunted along the Texas-Mexico border for a new slaying near Texarkana, a kidnapping, a rape and an attack. Faubus said "I am chagrined by the development and hope Jones is speedily apprehended."

But I see no improvement to be made in our parole system. Naturally mistakes will be made but we must balance these mistakes against a plan that makes a successful operation of a prison possible.

"There must be some kind of hope for these people in the prison under a system of our kind," Faubus said.

New Housing Project for Hot Springs

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A second important step toward the development of a 375-unit low rent housing project for Hot Springs under the federal government's urban development plan was taken by the City Council Monday night.

The council authorized its newly created Housing Authority Commission to borrow $52,500 from the government to survey and plan the project. The amount of federal money to be borrowed for the actual development will be determined by the survey.

David Whittington, city attorney, explained to the council that the federal loan for the project would be repaid entirely from money from rentals. The government matches local money two to one.

Lawrence Powell, Hot Springs banker, is chairman of the commission which was appointed a month ago to work on the project with the Federal Housing Authority.

Other Arkansas cities with similar projects underway include Arkadelphia, North Little Rock and Little Rock.

Blasts the U.S. in UN Talk, Praises Russia

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba accused the Western powers today of delaying tactics on disarmament and declared that the Soviet Union is the only major power that has made important concessions.

Cuban Delegate Manuel Biste said the government of Fidel Castro is in complete accord with Soviet disarmament proposals, including liquidation of all foreign military bases.

Speaking in the General Assembly's Political Committee, the Cuban representative continued the attack on the United States which Foreign Minister Raul Roa began Monday in the assembly.

Biste again brought the U.S. presidential campaign into the debate by saying "Let us not reopen the debate in the United Nations on the deterioration of U.S. prestige."

"If the Soviet Union is not the greatest power in the world," he declared, "it is one of the greatest."

He asserted that the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States both in the nuclear field and in outer space. And he added that the Soviet Union was completely justified in linking the liquidation of foreign bases with any agreement to establish international control over intercontinental missiles.

"The assembly headed for a vote on Cuba's bid for immediate assembly debate on the Cuban charge that the United States plans a military attack aimed at ousting the Castro regime."

He said the request will be part of a general construction plan he will submit to the Legislature. He said other institutions will be included, among them the state hospital.

Pertinent Data About Headaches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
A curious headache chemical, safety-first medicine cabinet, and familiar hydrogen peroxide figure in this week's focus on health.

Headache Agent.
A medical team tells of finding a strange chemical involved in migraines, type headaches. This chemical, named neurokinin, apparently increases susceptibility to pain.

Neurokinin apparently is released when nerve cells are excited, and it has powerful ability to dilate blood vessels, says Dr. Harold G. Wolff and associates of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center in the Archives of Neurology. Neurokinin apparently is formed in human tissues by a special enzyme, the researchers find.

Flu Vaccine.
With winter and flu threats approaching, experts are urging flu shots especially for anyone with heart or blood vessel diseases.

Medical evidence over the last three years has confirmed that risks from influenza are greater for patients with heart or lung ailments than for other persons, say Dr. A. Carlton Crumrine, president of the American Heart Assn., and Dr. James Watt, director of the National Heart Institute.

Safe Medicine Cabinet.
A medicine cabinet which will open only when two particular buttons are pushed simultaneously has been developed by Dr.

Chile Again Is Rocked by Earthquake

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Three violent earthquakes rocked southern Chile today, tumbling walls and buckling streets in half a dozen cities. Men, women and children ran through the streets in panic.

The earth rumblings, shortly before dawn, were felt from Concepcion on the southern Pacific Coast to Puerto Montt, 450 miles farther south in the lake region. Telephone and telegraph communications were knocked out but later restored.

There were no immediate reports of dead or injured. Vast areas of southern Chile were reduced to ruins by a series of earthquakes last May, the worst here in 20 years.

Lawmaker's News Letter Political

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. Post Office has ruled that a Westchester County congressman's newsletter to constituents was political in nature and not entitled to be mailed free under franking privileges.

The congressman, Edwin B. Dooley, a Republican, said he had paid $520 for mailing 18,000 newsletters after the ruling.

The newsletter has been the subject of a political fight between Dooley and his Democratic opponent, Phil S. Gilbert Jr., a New York attorney.

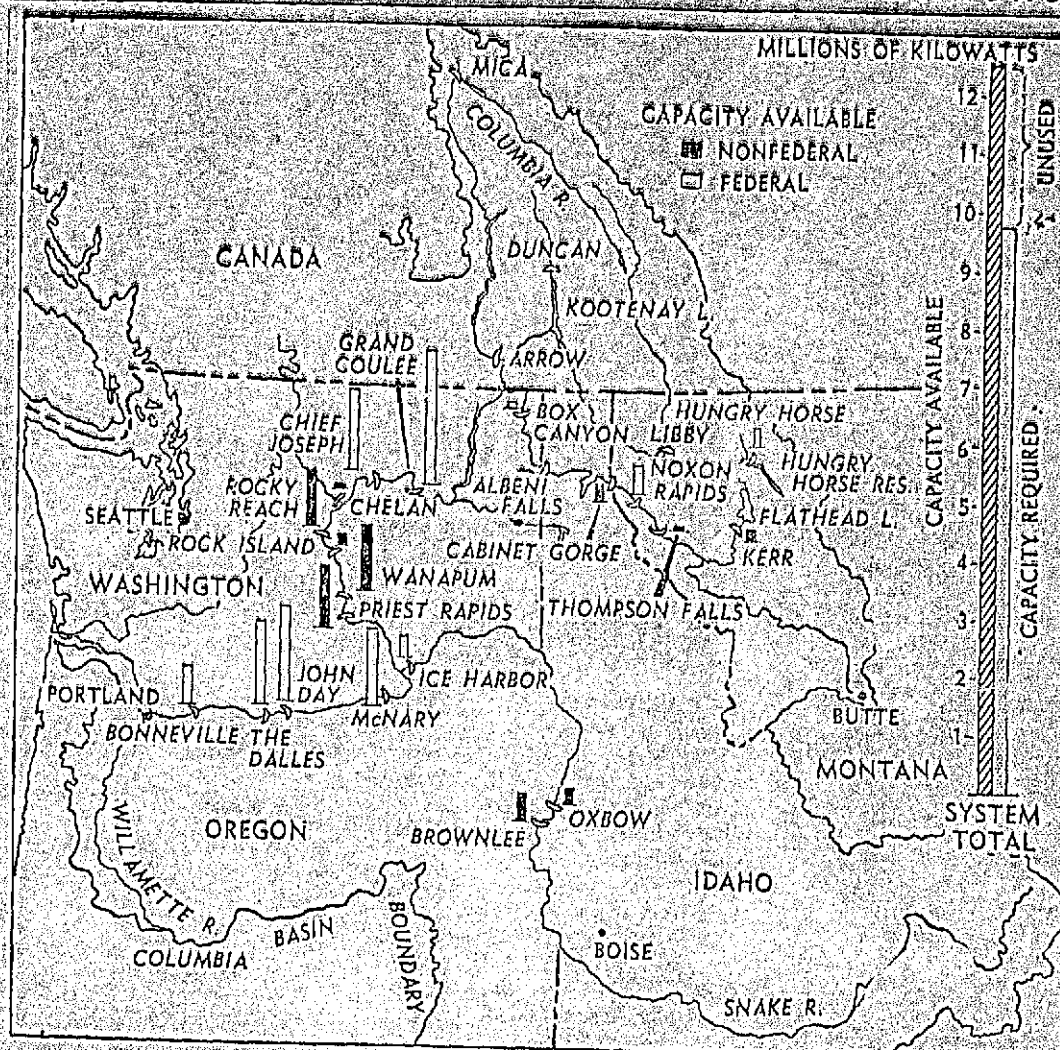

A. L. Chapman of the U.S. Public Health Service.

The idea is to make it impossible for children to open the cabinet and accidentally swallow dangerous drugs. The cabinets now being considered for manufacture has five buttons, but opens only when the second and fourth buttons are pressed, and these buttons are spaced to far apart for a child's hand to span. Drug poisoning killed more than 400 children in 1958, comments Scope Weekly.

Hydrogen peroxide, an old medical standby, seems destined for revival as a germ killer in ointment form, says Drs. Herbert M. Cobe and Emanuel Plouffe of Temple University.

The ointment cleanses wounds, and also appears effective against some of the most resistant strains of staphylococci, which are responsible for many serious infections.

OBJECTIVE: MORE POWER—Development of further power resources in the Columbia River basin by joint U.S.-Canada action is proposed in a new treaty which has won Presidential Eisenhower's support. Vertical lines at existing dams and those under construction show relative electric power potentials. Construction of three new dams in Canada—Arrow, Duncan and Mica—and at Libby, Montana, would add 1.6 million kilowatts of power to bring basin total to almost 20,000,000 kilowatts. U.S. cost would be 453 million dollars by 1970, 765 million by 1985.

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—The manhunt for Curtis Lee Jones, 38, centered on the Texas-Mexican border after he kidnaped two San Antonio residents early today and forced them at gunpoint to drive them here.
Curtis, paroled in Arkansas in September after serving time for murder, is wanted in Texarkana, Tex., on a murder charge. He also is accused of rape, attempted murder and the abduction of a schoolteacher's wife and child.

Jones told his San Antonio victims he planned to flee across the Rio Grande into Mexico. Laredo is on that river.

A massive manhunt started on both sides of the border, with air planes helping.

Here is the story told by Rosalinda Sosa, 30, and Carlos Guardaramas, 22.

Both work at Rosie's Place, a tavern in south San Antonio, and were closing shortly after midnight when Jones walked in.

He forced them at gunpoint into the Sosa woman's 1959 white car. He identified himself as Jones, sought in San Antonio since last Thursday when he freed a woman and her child there after abducting them in the Fort Worth area, admitting the rape of another woman and the attempted slaying of her companion.

Jones said he reached Rosie's Place by stealing a horse and riding 18 miles. He did not say where he stole the horse or where he had been hiding.

Jones forced the Sosa woman to drive to the international bridge across the Rio Grande. But at the bridge he sighted a police car and ordered the woman to turn around and drive toward San Antonio.

Outside Laredo, he ordered the car stopped. He gagged Guardaramas and bound his hands. Then he began to tie up the Sosa woman. But at that moment a pickup truck passed and she screamed for help.

Jones jumped into the car and drove away toward Laredo. Jones has spent most of his life in prison since he was 16.

He is charged in Texarkana with the gangland-style slaying of Doyle Jackson, 45, an ex-convict, Oct. 23. Jackson was shot to death and his body dragged with a belt around his throat 100 feet into some woods.

Last Wednesday he captured a couple in Fort Worth, raped the woman and left the man for dead after strangling them.

Jones then went to a nearby home and forced Mrs. Walter Sears, 34, to drive him in her car to San Antonio. He took along the Sears' 2-year-old daughter, Cynthia.

Several hours later he released Mrs. Sears and the child in San Antonio. Police started a manhunt but were unable to find the ex-convict.

Jones was sentenced to life imprisonment in Arkansas for a 1949 killing near Texarkana. Last year

Special Panel in Murder Trial

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)—

A jury of five women and seven men, qualified by the prosecution for the death penalty, was seated today to try Mrs. Naomi Shinn, 47, of Kansas City, Mo., on a first degree murder charge.

A total of 74 prospective jurors were examined and the last jurors were drawn from a special panel of 36 called after the regular panel was exhausted Monday.

Court was recessed after the jury was seated.

Attorneys' opening arguments were scheduled for the afternoon session.

Mrs. Shinn is accused in the fatal shooting of Francis B. Holtman, 47, a Kansas City policeman, at a nearby fishing resort last June 16.

Halloween Play Turns Out Fatal

CABOT, Ark. (AP)—A 17 year old boy, "Halloweening" with a group of friends, was struck and killed by a passenger train Monday night.

State Trooper Bill Breahears said Dale Griffin of Cabot jumped or fell from the bed of a pickup truck as it raced across the tracks ahead of the approaching Missouri Pacific Railroad passenger train.

Don Whittenberg, 18, also of Cabot, also fell from the truck, but was not hit and apparently escaped injury. The truck, driven by Bill Russell, 17, of Cabot narrowly missed being hit by the train, Breahears said.

Four youths were riding in the truck bed. Three were in the cab. The train carried Griffin's body 165 feet down the track. Officials said the same train had barely escaped being wrecked about an hour earlier in Walnut Ridge when it struck a cross-tie placed on the rails by Halloween pranksters. The tie slid along the rails instead of catching the wheels however.

The girls are going to glitter this Christmas, no doubt about it. And why not, when the girls are as pretty as these? To shine at the holidays and in the winter months after, there's this silver lame overblouse (left) loosely cinched at the waistline with a self-tie. It's shown here with slim velvet trousers. For a jewel of a Christmas, here are some baubles from the tree (center). Crystal and shining silver beads are combined and held in place with a huge, iridescent fake jewel. There's a matching bracelet. Quality watch (upper right) is every girl's dream of a Christmas present. But this one has something new added: a black-and-white zebra fur strap. This beautiful heart-shaped ring (lower right) is an exact copy of the engagement ring that Prince Albert gave to Queen Victoria. It's one in simulated diamonds-and-ruby and therefore costs far less than the original.

Wife Says Husband's Sister Comes First With Him

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen:

I am married. It's the second marriage for both. When we married, my husband's sister was going with a married man. Every time we went to her house he was there drinking. She is a divorcee with married children. My husband puts her ahead of me. Each is quick to defend the other if he and I disagree. Last year she went to the hospital for a check-up. My husband hurried home from work and couldn't dress fast enough to get to the hospital. The doctors didn't find anything wrong with her.

I have a back injury. My doctor told me not to do heavy work but I do just the same. We are paying for our house and can't afford outside help. My husband doesn't care. I always thought a man's wife came first but with my husband his sister comes before me. What can I do? —A Reader

Dear Reader: I detect an overtone of self-pity in your letter; justified but useless if you want to better home conditions. I also note that you did not mention the word love once. Yet, if you and your husband don't love one another how can you expect to hold first place in each other's heart? Ask him to help you recapture that lost love, if only for the sake of proving your marriage a success and not a failure. And cut out the contention — even though you are right and he's wrong. Don't give that sister of his the satisfaction of having to defend her brother. Stop putting up barriers. Throw them into each other's company. Invent errands that will take him to her house. Ask her often to yours. Such is the perversity of human nature, once opposition is removed, your husband and sister will cease to make an issue of family loyalty.

While I was in the hospital I grew very fond of my nurse. One day my wife came upon us—well! She was a real sport. I am afraid I showed my resentment because, when the nurse left the room and my wife tried to express her love and concern for me, I turned away and said, "You shouldn't have come today." Her eyes filled with tears yet she never spoke a cross word. After that she only came to see me once but sent a card or letter every day and never mentioned the incident. I am home now and even though my wife waits on me hand and foot, she seems cold, reserved and moody and has moved into a bedroom of her own. I miss the nurse. I dream I am holding her in my arms at night. When I tell visitors what a wonderful nurse I had my wife leaves the room. But when talking to our son and daughters and visitors, she seems her old self. What's wrong? Why can't she let me enjoy my pleasant memories? She watches the mail like a hawk. Please answer through this paper. —Troubled Husband

Dear Troubled Husband: You know the answer as well as I. Your wife acts as she does because she loves you. Turn the tables. How would you feel if she had an affair with her doctor then expected you to shrug it off? This bedside romance of yours was probably born of propinquity. If your wife has the courage and understanding to see this for what it is, then you and she will find your marriage all the stronger for having weathered your sentimental flare-up.

My mother and father have been married 14 years and are on the verge of a separation. I'm sure they still love each other very much and I know they love me. What can I do that might help the situation? I love them both so much that I would be miserable if they separated. —Heartbroken

P. S. They don't know that I found out about them.

Dear Heartbroken: Tell them what you have told me. If you feel unequal to the situation, ask your family clergyman or doctor to help.

Dear Helen:

New Hearing Slated in Vote Case

LONG, Ark. (AP)—A hearing today in motion to reopen the Sereeton-Gunter election contest may be a prelude to an appeal to the state Supreme Court. Circuit Judge W. J. Waggoner was to hear the motion by attorneys for J. T. Gunter of Austin, who filed suit challenging the Aug. 9 Democratic primary in the 10th Senatorial District, this afternoon. Gunter is expected to appeal if Waggoner declines to reopen the case. Waggoner last week dismissed Gunter's suit, leaving state Sen. Jerry J. Sereeton of Austin as the nominee whose name will appear on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

A motion for a rehearing is a necessary step before a Supreme Court appeal. Gunter alleged irregularities in the vote in Prairie County. Sereeton's home. Sereeton in reply challenged votes in Gunter's home, Lonoke County.

Waggoner dismissed the suit because he said Gunter had failed to enter details from 27 Lonoke County precincts and it was impossible to decide the case on its merits without the vote totals.

Lumberman Dies

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—James Joseph Hiegel, 74, who operated a lumber yard here from 1912 to 1938, died Monday in a Little Rock rest home.

I go to. He always makes cutting remarks about it and calls the school uniform I wear a prison uniform. He tells me if I want to say anything about his school to go ahead. I don't. But if I did I'd keep it to myself. Tell me what to do. —A. F.

Dear A. F.: Ask your boy friend what he has against your school. Try to debate the issue without losing your temper. Though of small consequence in itself, such a discussion could well prove a lesson of value in later life.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself... and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend — were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $1.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers. Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Cox's Jaw Not Broken, He May Play Some

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference football is rolling down the hilly stretch with Rice in the driver's seat and four other teams still in the running.

Rice is the lone unbeaten, untied team left but Baylor, Texas Christian Arkansas and Texas can still capture a coveted berth in the Cotton Bowl classic Jan. 2.

Rice can nab the host spot undisputed by winning its final four games. Baylor can bank in Cotton by winning its final three, one of which is Rice.

If Arkansas wins its next three and Baylor loses again the Razorbacks will be the "host of honor."

TCU, beaten once and tied once, and twice defeated Texas still have mathematical chances for at least a share of the crown, although their chances are slim.

The eight conference members, for the most part, staged only light workouts Monday as they prepared for their respective assignments Saturday.

Coach Darrell Royal ran his varsity through customary Monday wind sprints and the Steers viewed films on the SMU game.

"I don't think we can afford to make the mistakes we've been making on scoring plays," Royal said. He referred to two touchdown runs and a couple of long gainers erased because of penalties.

Texas Tech loosened up in sweat suits, made several defensive changes and was warned of the offensive prowess of Tulane's Tommy Mason.

SMU held a short workout and learned that halfback Glynn Gregory may miss another game because of injury.

At College Station, Coach Jim Meyers continues to praise the Aggie line, which apparently deserves it. Meyers cited half a dozen linemen as outstanding in the Cadets' 7-3 loss to favored Arkansas last week.

X-rays revealed Monday that Arkansas fullback Curtis Cox doesn't have a fractured jaw—as feared—but only a dislocation. He'll be ready to play against Rice Saturday.

Ronnie Bull, Baylor's talented bulldozer, missed a brief Bear drill Monday but is expected to be in top shape for Saturday's crucial game against Texas.

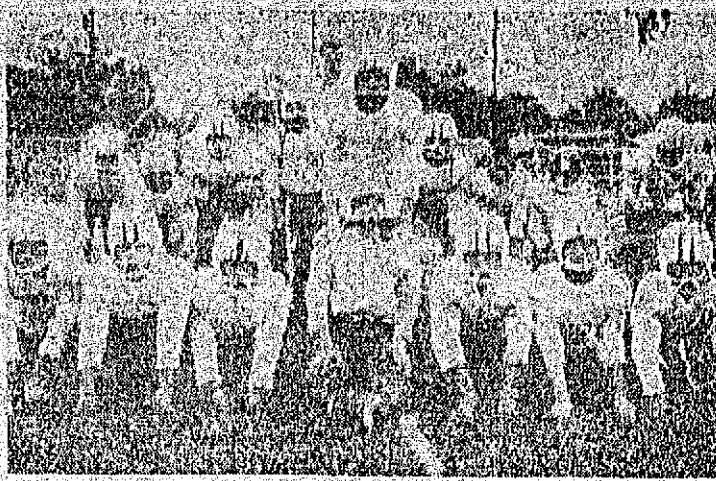

Rice, which emerged from the Texas Tech game without serious injury, held a light workout and then retired to the movie room.

TCU had the most enjoyable day of all. The Horned Frogs viewed films of their 14-6 upset win over Baylor and then were granted the rest of the day off.

Alvin Dark to Manage the Giants

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Alvin Dark takes command of the San Francisco Giants with an admonition that the Candlestick Park winds should be forgotten, the quicker the better.

The take-charge guy of the Giants infield during their championship years of 1951 and 1954 drew a two-year contract to manage and install his own brand of field operation. Terms weren't announced but are believed $25,000 annually.

"Alvin was the man we wanted all along," said Giants Vice President Charles (Chub) Penney. To get the 14-year National League veteran player, the Giants traded utility shortstop Andre Rodgers to the Milwaukee Braves.

Speaking softly, Dark, 38, gave a solid indication he would brook no excuses and wanted the right to full authority in operating the club on the field.

Last year as the Giants were tabbed for the pennant in pre-season forecasts and flopped, players complained about the tricky winds at the new Candlestick Park.

"The climate here is wonderful," commented Dark. "That wind is just like the Louisiana heat. The more you talk about it the worse it gets."

He noted the Giants won 45 and lost 32 in Candlestick and said, "They won more than they lost there I'm for that."

Dark replaces Tom (Clancy) Sheehan, named as interim manager when Bill Rigney was fired last June 18. Although only four games off Pittsburgh's pace when the switch was made, the Giants sagged further to fifth place and a 79-75 over-all record.

President Horace Stoneham declared in June that failure to install a new manager was a chief reason Rigney was fired.

Asked about possible trades, Dark said he had none in mind immediately and added, "I don't think a trade should be made just to get rid of a ball player."

Porkers 16th; Iowa Retains First Place

By JACK HAND

The unbeaten Iowa Hawkeyes remain the No. 1 college football team of the nation for the third straight week of the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

With Syracuse and Baylor dropping from the ranks of the unbeaten and Mississippi being held to a 6-6 tie by Louisiana State, there was a shakeup in other top 10 rankings.

Iowa won by a landslide with 46 first-place votes from the 48-man panel which votes weekly. The only other teams to get first-place ballots were Minnesota and Washington, each got one.

Mississippi dropped from second to sixth as the result of the tie with LSU. Missouri, a 28-0 winner over Nebraska, shouldered into second place and Minnesota, which meets Iowa in a Big Ten showdown battle Saturday in Minneapolis, took over third place.

Navy, a 14-7 winner after a rugged scrimmage with Notre Dame, held the No. 4 spot for another week. Ohio State's 21-10 victory over Michigan State moved the winners into fifth place and dumped the losers out of the top ten listing.

Washington took over seventh after losing out Oregon 7-6 and Tennessee, a newcomer in the top ten, advanced to eighth after whipping North Carolina 27-14.

Syracuse, beaten by Pitt 10-0, slipped from third to ninth on the defeat.

Rice moved into the No. 10 spot by thumping Texas Tech 30-6 and Baylor, beaten for the first time by Texas Christian 14-6, dropped out.

Negro Held for Shooting Gragger

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Henry Singleton, 17, a student at Little Rock Horace Mann (Negro) High School, has been charged with assault with intent to kill in the wounding of a football player for rival Langston High School here.

Detective Lt. Ernest Dodd said Singleton had admitted shooting Roy Bils, 17, also a Negro, last Friday. He said Singleton had promised to lead officers to the spot where he threw a .25 caliber pistol after the shooting last Friday.

Singleton, held in lieu of $1,400 bond, faces a Municipal Court hearing Wednesday. Two other Horace Mann students arrested the night of the Mann-Langston game and charged with carrying concealed weapons also are scheduled for hearings Wednesday. They are Ellis Love, 17, and Philip Ingram, 16.

Memphis Coach Has Operation

MEMPHIS, AP — The head football coach at Memphis State, Billy (Snook) Murphy, was recuperating today from an operation to remove kidney stones.

Murphy said he expects to leave the hospital Thursday. His physician said it was too early to say whether the coach could attend the SMU-Abilene Christian game here Saturday night.

Ray Malavasi, assistant coach, will handle the Tigers during Murphy's absence. The operation was performed Monday.

Specialist Iowa's Most Valuable

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A little halfback who has carried the ball only twice this season is one of the most valuable players on Iowa's high scoring football team.

He is Bernie Wyatt, a defensive specialist Iowa coaches count on to contain opposing runners and pass receivers.

Wyatt calls defensive plays for the undefeated Hawks in addition to patrolling on flank. He has participated in nearly every defensive play so far this season.

His performance has helped limit six opponents to 69 points and keep Iowa in first place in the Associated Press national football poll. Iowa is averaging 27 points a game.

Says defensive coach Jerry Burns: "He's always the first player we send in there on the wild card rule when we lose the ball."

Wyatt, 5 foot, 10 inch 165-pounder, senior, was outstanding on offense in high school at Amityville, N.Y. He couldn't break into the Iowa offensive lineup, which has featured standout halfbacks in recent years. But he took to defensive play like a duck takes to water.

"He has good judgment when he sees a pass thrown and even if it is completed he's sure to tackle the receiver," Burns says.

Wyatt gained 13 yards on the two times he carried the ball.

Few Changes in Arkansas Rankings

By WICK TEMPLE

Associated Press Staff Writer

Arkansas High School football has settled down prematurely. Little Rock Central holds first place for the fourth straight week in the Associated Press ratings. Rogers remains atop Class AA and Fordyce keeps the Class A lead.

The only major change this week is the ascension of Wilson to the Class B ranks after a 40-0 victory over Marion.

Atkins, the previous B leader, fell to its second defeat, 14-13 to Greenwood. Wilson and Barton, which moved into second place after a 34-13 triumph over Elaine, both are 7-0.

Pine Bluff stayed right behind Central in the overall rankings and Little Rock Hall is third after a 7-6 victory over Fort Smith, which fell to fourth. Pine Bluff and Hall are tied for second place, right behind Central, in the Big Nine race.

Rogers is fifth in the state with an 8-0 record and leads Class AA with Conway second and Stuttgart third.

Fordyce won its eighth straight game of the season, 34-0 over White Hall, and retained the top ranking in A. In second place is Fort Smith St. Anne's, with a 7-0 record after a 44-0 killing of Muldrow, Okla. Fordyce ranks 10th in the overall listings.

Central is heavily favored over North Little Rock in the only Big Nine Conference game that has any bearing on the Big 9 league standings this week. The Tigers meet Pine Bluff next week in a showdown for Big Nine leadership and probably the top spot in the ratings.

Here are the Associated Press ratings for the ninth week (records in parentheses):

- THE TOP 12:
1. Little Rock Central (8-0-0)
 2. Pine Bluff (7-1-0)
 3. Little Rock Hall (6-1-1)
 4. Fort Smith (6-2-0)
 5. Rogers (8-0-0)
 6. Conway (7-0-1)
 7. Stuttgart (6-1-0)
 8. El Dorado (3-4-0)
 9. Helena (8-1-0)
 10. Fordyce (8-0-0)
 11. Benton (5-2-1)
 12. Camden (5-3-1)
- TOP 5 IN A
1. Fordyce (8-0-0)
 2. St. Anne's (7-0-0)
 3. Batesville (8-0-0)

Opponent Would Debate McClellan

HAVANA, Ark. (AP) — Marvin Fuchs of Havana, a write-in candidate against Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., today challenged McClellan to a debate on national right to work laws and application of anti-monopoly laws to labor unions.

Fuchs said he was not aware that McClellan had made any definite proposals for curbing what he called the monopolistic power of labor unions.

Fuchs said America "must quit running from the labor unions" action because the Klansmen did not cause a disturbance. He added, however, that he would check with the prosecuting attorney to determine the law governing such demonstrations.

The grand dragon said his group was not connected with a Klan organization, which came to light several months ago in Texarkana. He declined to discuss the number of Klan members.

W.E. Hussman, publisher of the Texarkana Gazette questioned the grand dragon about the insignia on the uniform. He said the official told him a cross "represents the cross that Christ was crucified on and the white background represents purity."

At the state meeting, according to the letter to Tackett, "many current events and problems will be discussed." The letter gave no indication of how many Klansmen might participate.

Fight for New York Votes Picking Up

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Top Republicans and Democrats will wage a knock-down, drag-out fight in New York this week in the face of growing evidence that the state's prized 45 electoral votes may be won by Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The forces of Republican Richard M. Nixon are privately apprehensive as they go all out in what now is widely considered an uphill presidential battle in this state.

Kennedy's Democratic forces will use front-rank campaigners to defend a position regarded by some as a precarious edge and by others as a comfortable margin.

Sources close to Nixon said last week the tide was running against him in New York.

The New York Daily News poll, conducted through secret balloting, indicates Kennedy has a lead of about 5 to 4.

A shift by Roman Catholic Republicans to support Kennedy, a Catholic, is considered a major factor in his New York showing.

But Republicans point to President Eisenhower's 1.6 million vote plurality in this state in 1956. They say the party has sufficient strength to withstand any Kennedy inroads.

Other Republican nor Democratic leaders are willing to make official forecasts on the margin of victory they expect. Republicans are aiming for a million-vote margin outside of New York City. They feel this would overcome any Kennedy edge within the heavily Democratic city.

New York, the most populous state, apparently has a record registration this year of 8.4 million voters, an increase of nearly 700,000 over 1956. The official 1960 total has not been announced.

Unofficial figures show 4.8 million voters registered in the upstate and Long Island area, which has been staunchly Republican.

There are 3.6 million registered voters in New York City. They include large blocs of Irish-American, Puerto Rican and Italian.

Just time to get dressed, says Valerie.

Americans, all heavily Roman Catholic, as well as Jewish and Negro groups.

New York has supported Republican presidential candidates in 60 of 15 elections in this century. It backed Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, native son, four times. Woodrow Wilson once in a three-way race. The state administration, legislative majorities both U.S. Senators and most U.S. representatives are Republican.

In this campaign, Republicans say:

1. Since New York is a Republican state, Nixon could run for behind Eisenhower and still win. Polls indicating a Kennedy victory are not sufficiently representative of the strongest Republican areas.

2. Kennedy's victory forecasts make a major error in assuming there will be overwhelming shifts of Republican Catholics to Kennedy. Many Catholics will vote for Nixon in support of what they consider a stronger Republican stand against communism and sounder approach to fiscal matters.

The Democrats say:

1. We have been making slow but steady gains in recent years in strongly Republican areas. Kennedy will win a large enough plurality in New York City and cut deeply enough into Nixon strength upstate to win.

TRIAL BY SLANDER

By Travis MacCree

An unfamiliar male voice, strangely out of control, said: "I have to tell you some terrible news."

THE STORY: Janet Hamilton is a witness in a murder trial. When she takes the stand, the defense attorney is: "Mrs. Hamilton, when did you first meet the defendant?"

CHAPTER II

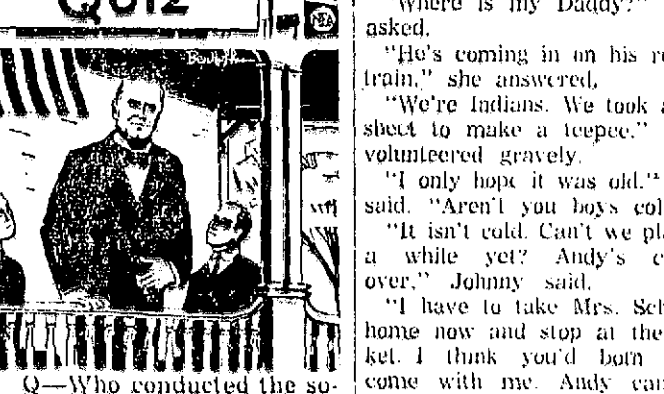

"When did you first meet the defendant...?" By one of those odd coincidences that make truth seem contrived, Janet Hamilton and Jason Whiting bumped into each other, quite literally, before they actually met. It had happened nearly two years ago.

On that early spring morning, she had had a cleaning woman at home and had accompanied John on the 9:03 to the city. The Niarchos art collection, recently purchased by the Greek shipping magnate, was on exhibition. Janet spent a blissful three hours strolling from painting to painting, looking at the people, many of whom had come from surrounding suburbs, as she had, to see the collection.

Glancing down, she noticed that her shoestring had come untied; while bending to lace it, she was suddenly pushed forward almost onto her face. She pulled herself to a sitting position and had time to notice a sturdy pair of men's brown Oxfords before she felt a strong pair of hands haul her to her feet. In her confusion she barely noticed the source of both her embarrassment and rescue. She heard a deep male voice flume his awkwardness and ask:

"When did you first meet the defendant...?"

ton, please?" An unfamiliar male voice, strangely out of control. "This is she."

"Mrs. Hamilton, this is Janet Hamilton," John's boss, the sounder, frightened, pitiful, "I'm afraid I have to tell you some terrible news. John took sick here not an hour ago. We sent for a doctor at once, of course, but it was too late. Nothing could have been done. It was a heart attack. We're all terribly shocked."

Janet answered. She said something, her voice sounding remote. Mr. Elman said he would come to the house that evening. Janet hung up, and sat still, listening to the ticking of the kitchen clock and the distant voices of the boys playing. She sniffled the coffee and watched the smoke from her cigarette as it drifted through patches of sunlight.

John was dead. But it wasn't real. It wasn't possible. She'd seen John at lunch, and he'd been fine. Gene Grey had said he was fine only a month ago, when he'd had his regular check-up. He hadn't complained of feeling sick.

John had earned a good salary. He had carried reasonable life insurance, although now it seemed very little, eaten up by monthly mortgage payments, food and clothing for growing boys. On the few occasions that she and John had talked about what would happen if he died, his total insurance had seemed adequate. Never had they figured out exactly what her expenses would be, what her income would be without his salary. She realized that John had assumed she would live with her parents, who still maintained the big old house in Manhattan.

There had seemed little point in arguing with John about what she would do if he died. Her parents had, in fact, repeatedly suggested to Janet that she and the boys move in with them, but the idea was impossible. To live again in her mother's house, to raise boys where no child had lived for 20 years, to be forever grateful... forever asking favors... following suggestions... no. Her refusal had exasperated her parents. Not once had they simply sent a check; if they had, she would not have refused it. Instead, offers of help were made in such a way that Janet could not accept without a slackening of her independence.

"Dear, let me know if the boys need any clothes. I'll take them into town whenever you say." "Janet, my decorator says she can get me fabrics at 20 per cent off. Would you like me to have your two wing chairs redone?" "Daddy says he's worried about your water heater. John told him last fall it would have to be replaced. Why don't you call your father and ask him to talk to a man in your area about a new one?"

In each case, Janet was put in the subtle position of receiving a favor, of having to ask, although the offer was made. In each case, the expenditure was guided by her mother. Janet felt that somehow there was a kind of hostility behind it; it was really this that made acceptance impossible, even though her chairs were growing shabby, the water didn't heat properly, and the boys were wearing coats that had been altered twice. In a way her mother was saying, "I've got you back. You're dependent on me now." And Janet was answering, "No, I'm not and won't be if I can possibly help it."

As she walked upstairs to make the beds, Janet mulled over her decision to work. Teaching had once been her goal. She had taught kindergarten for a year in a private school after graduating from college. She had a major in education. It shouldn't be too hard. She would write to find out what she needed for certification as a teacher. Meanwhile, she could ask about job possibilities at some of the private schools where a certificate was not required.

Feeling more purposeful than she had in the past four months, Janet briskly threw covers back from the boys' beds and opened the window to air out the room. (To Be Continued)

Dollarway's Time Out, Negro Says

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Negro attorney Wiley Branton told a National Association of the Advancement of Colored People Sunday that "The Pine Bluff School Board's time has run out," and said that he had been asked by Negro parents to take necessary steps to enroll their children in the city's all-white schools.

It was the first recent mention of proposed integration in Pine Bluff. Dollarway School in the Dollarway District on the northwest edge of Pine Bluff was integrated this fall when one six-year-old Negro girl began attending first grade classes.

An NAACP official told about 200 Negroes at the rally that a boycott of stores operating segregated lunch counters has been 92 per cent effective.

Dr. B. E. Parker, president of the Pine Bluff branch of the NAACP, advocated "more action and

Arkansas Folklore Authority Dies

EUROKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Otto Ernest Rayburn, an Arkansas folklorist and author of the known authority of Ozark folklore, died Sunday in the Baylor University Hospital where he had been a patient for a week.

He was editor of the Ozark Gleaner magazine and had written several books and articles about the Arkansas Ozarks. He also was known as a lecturer on the Ozarks.

His books included "The Inland West," "Dreams," "Dust," "Roadside Chits," "Ozark Country" and "The Euroka Springs Story."

less talk to get the privileges that are rightfully ours."

"This boycott is going to continue just as long as it takes. Maybe we should set up picket lines or have sit-in demonstrations."

He then called for volunteers to meet with him and discuss these possible actions. None came forward.

Branton was asked by newspaper after the meeting to elaborate on his statements about possible integration action for Pine Bluff city schools, but he declined, saying he had "said all I want to right now."

Branton also launched into state politics, urging the Negroes to vote against proposed school closing Amendment 52 on the Nov. 8 ballot and for the Republican candidate for governor, Henry M. Brill.

"I know that Orval Faubus is all but elected," he said. "But I could not live with myself if I allowed myself to go into a polling place and vote for him."

Branton urged support for integrated Act One, the minimum wage proposal, and proposed Amendment 50 and 51, which deal with raising salaries of officials and with municipal financing.

Administration of Faubus Attacked

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Henry M. Britt, the Republican candidate for governor, Monday night attacked the administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and urged a two-party system to check "unreasonable public expenditures."

Britt speaking at a Republican sponsored "Dinner for Two Parties" here, said that if elected he would recommend that all state boards and commissions be made bi-partisan.

He attacked what he termed "the unhealthy growth of power in our state government," saying that almost 10,000 new state jobs have been added under Faubus. He said the state income tax has "doubled or tripled" and that expenditures have risen from $148 to $266 million a year.

Avery, Man Who Defied Army, Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Sewell Lee Avery, 86, a strong-willed big businessman who ultimately took on the U.S. Army, died Monday.

Avery, who was Montgomery Ward & Co. chairman from 1931 to 1955, died in his apartment on fashionable Lake Shore Drive of a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been ill for a year.

In financial circles, Avery was a legend.

Brilliant and tough, he was almost phenomenally successful from the day in 1894 when he graduated from University of Michigan Law School.

As Montgomery Ward's chief executive, he fought spectacular battles against the federal government in 1944 and financier Louis E. Wolfson in 1955.

In 1944, Avery defied the War Labor Board's intervention in a Montgomery Ward dispute with a CIO union.

When on April 26, 1944, government officials, backed by troops, occupied Ward property in Chicago, Avery sat defiantly in his office.

The next day two soldiers entered his office, picked him up and deposited him in the street outside.

Pictures of Avery, immaculately groomed and apparently unaffected, being carried by two GIs were among the most widely circulated news photos of the decade.

He later said he deliberately maneuvered the government into a show of force to dramatize what he called the "march of dictatorship" in the United States.

Two weeks later, the labor controversy was settled, the government relinquished Ward control and Avery was back on the job.

His last big battle was a successful defense in 1955 against financier Wolfson's campaign to wrest control of Montgomery Ward.

Wolfson, then 43, staged an eight-month proxy fight against Avery, saying Avery was no longer fit to run the huge $700-million mail order concern.

Avery, then 81, fought back and won. A few months later he resigned as board chairman and four years later, critically ill with a cancerous tumor, severed his last connection with Ward management.

Avery's first triumph in business came in 1905 when he vaulted to the presidency of United States Gypsum Co. after only four years with the firm. From 1937 to 1951 he was chairman of the board.

Archbishop of Canterbury to Visit Pope

BY RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—An archbishop of Canterbury will meet a Roman Catholic Pope next month for the first time since Henry VIII broke with the papacy in the 16th century and set up the Church of England.

Archbishop Geoffrey Fisher, spiritual leader of the Church of England, announced today that he will pay a courtesy visit to Pope John XXIII at the Vatican during a Dec. 1-3 stopover on his way home from a Middle Eastern tour.

While in the Middle East, Dr. Fisher will meet with prelates of the Eastern Orthodox Church in Jerusalem and Istanbul.

Vatican sources hailed the visit as a step toward unity but warned against expecting any immediate or dramatic developments. "It is an example of reciprocal goodwill and a new stone on the road to getting closer together," one source said.

The archbishop's decision apparently stemmed from this year's conference of the Protestant World Council of Churches in Scotland, which two Catholic missionaries attended as observers.

Word was passed then that Pope John XXIII would be glad to receive Dr. Fisher.

Both Dr. Fisher and Pope John have shown keen interest in closer ness came in 1905 when he vaulted to the presidency of United States Gypsum Co. after only four years with the firm. From 1937 to 1951 he was chairman of the board.

Ohio Could Be the Key to Election

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—History indicates the presidential candidate who sells himself to Ohio probably will be the next occupant of the White House.

Only once in this century—in 1944—has Ohio missed the boat on the presidency.

With that one exception in the last 15 presidential elections, Ohio voters cut through the welter of state and local candidates and issues and cast the Buckeye State's substantial electoral vote for the national winner.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard-bearer, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, have campaigned often and hard in Ohio.

Both have been received enthusiastically by record crowds.

Both Republicans and Democratic leaders show calm confidence, at least on the surface, that Ohio's 25 electoral votes will wind up on their side. Those 25 votes represent nearly 10 per cent of the 269 total needed to win.

This year's presidential race in Ohio is different from any in the memory of anyone now living. It will provide a classic test of national candidates and issues alone because it is uncluttered by state costs.

Ohio Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman is claiming the state for Kennedy by about 250,000 votes "if the election were being held today, and barring a national emergency."

Coleman's victory forecast indicates a belief Ohio Democrats will be able to overcome two mountainous obstacles:

1. The fact that President Eisenhower carried Ohio for the Republican party by a record of 823,000 votes in 1956, receiving slightly more than 61 per cent of the vote.

2. The campaign fact that Democrat Alfred E. Smith, the only previous Roman Catholic nominated for the presidency, was snowed under in Ohio in 1928 by nearly 2-1.

Some Democratic leaders admit privately that they are being hurt in the southern Ohio areas they term the "Bible Belt." But the same leaders say they are confident that normally Democratic, heavily populated industrial areas in northeastern Ohio will more than offset the southern Ohio vote.

GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss says he believes Kennedy has passed his peak and that Nixon's campaign is moving fast on the upgrade "since he came out slugging."

Chairman Bliss says: "I believe Nixon will carry Ohio by a comfortable margin. I try to be honest in my predictions, but it's hard to appraise this campaign in depth. I don't want to be pinned down to an exact figure. We will lose some of the industrial counties, but if we lose some of them by a narrow margin, it really will be a victory."

THERE JUST DOESN'T SEEM TO BE A knife that can handle this monster watermelon. Grown near Hope, Arkansas, it tops the scales at a hefty 120 lbs. Consequently, George Eichelsbach, Vice President and General Manager of McCulloch Corporation's Los Angeles Division, relies upon one of his company's own products—a McCulloch power chain saw—to get at the rich, ripe deliciousness inside. The melon was a gift to Mr. Eichelsbach from his Arkansas distributor, Timberland Saw Company, of North Little Rock. Leo's Garage & Implement Co. are the local representatives.

Keep Sense of Wonder, Boyle Says

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—

Columnist Hal Boyle urged news writers and editors keep "your sense of wonder" at a meeting of the Arkansas Associated Press Association here Sunday.

And he added that they should guard against the danger of becoming cynical.

Boyle, an Associated Press writer for many years and a Pulitzer Prize winner, was guest speaker at the association's luncheon.

He discussed the difficulties and rewards of column writing.

Association members reviewed plans for coverage of the Nov. 8 general election and the 1961 legislative session.

Garner Allen of Stuttgart, the association president, suggested that the 1961 spring meeting be held in north Arkansas, perhaps in the Bull Shoals and Lake Norfork area.

The Hot Springs Sentinel Record and New Era were hosts for the Sunday meeting.

be a victory."

Newspaper polls have been relatively few and generally have covered local areas only. Those which have made at least a stab at statewide coverage have been too fragmentary to indicate a firm trend.

They do indicate, however, that Nixon has no hope of holding for the Republican party anything like the huge total of 2,262,610 votes picked up by Eisenhower in 1956. This is so even though the official forecast is for a total Ohio vote of about four million—about 300,000 more than in the presidential election four years ago.

Son Is Born to Royal Iran Couple

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Queen Farah Diba gave birth today to a robust boy weighing 8 pounds 11 ounces, and Iran's shah finally got an heir after three marriages.

"The baby looks like the shah," said Dr. Jahanshah Saleh, Iran's minister of health and an American-trained gynecologist, who delivered the baby.

Cheering crowds mobbed the shah as he drove after the birth from the Charity Hospital in one of the city's poorest quarters, that he and his wife had chosen for the birthplace of their first baby.

The announcement of the crown prince's birth and a 41 gun salute that boomed over the city set off frantic celebrations. The shah has a daughter by his first marriage, but women cannot succeed to the throne in Muslim Iran.

Dr. Saleh said the queen was still under anesthesia but "she's in fine shape."

The baby at his birth "gave a loud cry and he's in perfect condition," the doctor reported.

The shah raised his hands and thanked Allah, then "thanked me and I kissed his hands," Saleh said.

Saleh said the queen was in labor less than five hours. The doctor said it was an instrument birth.

Premier Shafit Emami in a communique saluted the baby as the "rightful direct crown prince of Iran."

The shah in a brief statement said: "I am very happy that Almighty God accepted my prayers and granted us a child."

Sikes Back at His Old Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arnold Sikes will return Tuesday as executive secretary to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a post he left two years ago.

Sikes has been a member of the Arkansas Commerce Commission for the past two years. The appointment, a topic of speculation for several weeks, was announced by Faubus Saturday.

Sikes will replace Rolla Fitch, who will return to his former post as director of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Faubus said he has not decided who will replace Sikes on the Commerce Commission. He has said, however, that he wants to find a place in the administration for Dan Stephens of Clinton, a former aide who resigned recently to resume his law practice.

CAMPAIGN QUIZ

Q—What was the origin of "O.K. Club?"

A—Probably from the initials of "Old Kinderhook" (N.Y.), birthplace of President Martin Van Buren. An "O.K. Club" supported his unsuccessful bid for re-election in 1840.

Additional Anti-U.S. Riots Likely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Internal Security subcommittee says more anti-American riots are likely in Latin America and Asia. It says they will be Communist-inspired.

The prediction came in a study released by the subcommittee Sunday.

The study dealt with four riots during an Inter-American Conference in 1948.

2. The rioting of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1958.

3. The La Paz, Bolivia, riots after publication of a "Time" magazine article in 1959.

4. The Tokyo rioting before the scheduled visit of President Eisenhower this year.

Describing them all as anti-American and Communist-inspired, the subcommittee said the success achieved by Communists in manipulating mobs for anti-American incitement will encourage them to further efforts of this kind on a larger scale.

The subcommittee also said the four riots "give evidence of long-range planning and far-reaching effectiveness."

The subcommittee saw the hand of Communist China in some of the rioting. It said the Chinese Communist party "has rendered valuable assistance to Communist parties in Latin America and to Japan which have organized mob violence."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is chairman of the subcommittee.

Russia Asks Report on Congo Affair

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today demanded a quick report from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld on the rioting.

The United Nations is doing to suppress "the subversive activities of Belgian agents" in the Congo.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin sent a letter to Frederick H. Boland, president of the General Assembly, asking his aid in obtaining information from the secretary-general about recent events in the Congo.

Zorin expressed surprise that Hammarskjöld had not reported to the United Nations in more than a month on developments in the Congo, despite word that Belgian military personnel "are beginning to return there and are engaging in subversive activities, against the republic's political independence and territorial integrity."

$100,000 Damage in Osceola Fire

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—Damage in a fire which destroyed the Dyess Implement Co. here Monday has been estimated at nearly $100,000.

That figure came from an insurance man several hours after an explosion touched off the fire which destroyed the one-story frame building and damaged an adjacent grocery.

An employee, Ernest Ingraham, suffered minor burns on his hands and head when a tractor, which was being repaired, exploded.

Firemen Pete Dahbs and Dwain Bivens were overcome by smoke while fighting the fire but were soon revived.
